Item 1 - Advisory Business

WealthPoint Advisors, LLC (WPA) is a fee-only registered investment advisory company. We do not accept commissions or finder's fees. WPA's registration was granted by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission on July 23, 2010.

Brent Michael Walker (CRD Number 2480709) is President and Chief Compliance Officer of WPA. Mr. Walker is one hundred (100%) percent equity owner of the firm. The firm is not publicly owned or traded, and there are no indirect owners of the firm or intermediaries who have any ownership interest in the firm. The firm manages each client's portfolio on an individualized basis. As of our last reporting period, the firm managed assets on a discretionary basis in the amount of $235,689,234, representing 480 accounts (regulatory assets under management). On a nondiscretionary basis, we provided advice on another $42,895,825 representing 147 accounts (assets under advisement).

WealthPoint Advisors, LLC (WPA), an Indiana Limited Liability Company, is a fee only investment advisor providing such professional services to our clients. We do not receive any income in connection with acting as your advisor except for the fees we charge as described in Item 2 below. We will work with you to determine and ascertain your goals, investment objectives, and risk profile. We will develop a customized investment portfolio that is consistent with these goals and objectives. We may work with you to develop a transition plan in order to move some or all of your assets from your existing asset allocation to the desired allocation. We may develop a written investment policy statement using historical financial data as well as portfolio allocation software. We may monitor the performance of the assets as well as the asset allocation strategy. We will also hold review meetings with you and produce quarterly performance reports for you.

We provide the following Investment Advisory Services:

- A. Determine your goals and objectives
- B. Analyze your financial condition
- C. Recommend options to achieve your financial objectives
- D. Implement investment strategies
- E. Monitor your investment performance.

Clients may impose restrictions on their accounts. The firm does not participate in wrap programs.

Item 2 - Fees and Compensation

The following fees are charged quarterly in advance based upon the value of your account:

Account Balance	Annual Fee
Up to $999,999	1.00%
$1,000,000 to $2,999,999	0.90%
$3,000,000 to $6,999,999	0.75%
$7,000,000 to $9,999,999	0.60%
$10,000,000 to $19,999,999	0.50%
$20,000,000 and above	Negotiable

The annual fee is charged on the entire account balance each calendar quarter, in advance, based on the market value of your account as of the value on the last day of the previous quarter. Initial charges will be prorated for the current quarter.

Generally, fees are charged against your investment accounts. You will provide WPA or a designated service vendor the authority to withdraw these fees directly from the account.

WPA's fee is subject to an annual minimum fee per household of $2,500. It should be noted that our standard fee schedule has been in effect since December 20, 2017 and some clients that have been with us for a significant number of years are charged a different rate than described above. We will on occasion negotiate alternate fees to the above for your account. Fees may also vary based on individual or family circumstances. Your agreement may be canceled at any time, by either party, for any reason upon receipt of written notice. Upon termination of any account, any prepaid, unearned or unapplied fees will be promptly refunded to you. You shall enjoy a five-business day penalty free right of rescission.

All fees paid to WPA for investment advisory services are separate and distinct from the fees charged by mutual funds to their shareholders, including investment advisory fees which the mutual fund's investment adviser may charge to the fund. These fees and expenses are described in each fund's prospectus.

Item 3 - Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

None.

Item 4 - Types of Clients

Individuals, pension plans, profit sharing plans, trusts, estates, charitable organizations, corporations and other business entities.

Item 5 - Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies and Risk of Loss

Our securities analysis is based upon a number of factors including those derived from commercially available software technology, security rating service, general market and financial information, historical data, due diligence reviews, and specific investment analysis you request from time to time.

Our advice is based upon long-term strategies that incorporate the principles of Modern Portfolio Theory. Our investment approach is based on the belief that markets are "efficient", and that investors returns are determined principally by asset allocation decisions, not market timing or stock picking.

All securities carry some degree of risk of loss.

Item 6 - Disciplinary Information

None.

Item 7 - Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

None.

Item 8 - Code of Ethics, Participation or Interest in Client Transactions and Personal Trading

WPA has adopted a Code of Ethics (the "Code") in compliance with Rule 204A-1 of the Investment Advisors Act of 1940 for its employees and associates. The Code was developed to provide general ethical guidelines and specific instructions regarding our duties to you as our advisory client. The Code was adopted to establish standards and procedures for the detection and prevention of employees and associates taking inappropriate advantage of their positions and their access to information concerning the investments or investment intentions of their clients, or their ability to influence such investment intentions, for personal gain or in a manner detrimental to the interests of their clients. As part of the Code, no person WPA employs may benefit, either directly or indirectly, from transactions placed on behalf of advisory accounts. Employees cannot buy or sell securities for the personal portfolio(s) where their decision is substantially derived, in whole or part, from their employment, unless the information is also available to the investing public on reasonable inquiry. We do not prefer our interests to your interests. The Code acknowledges the general principles that WPA and/or its employees and associates owe a fiduciary obligation to our clients, have the duty at all times to place the interests of our clients first, conduct all personal securities transactions in such a manner as to avoid any actual or potential conflict of interest or abuse of individual's position of trust and responsibility, should not take inappropriate advantage of their positions in relation to client accounts, must comply with Federal Securities Laws, and must safeguard non-public information about clients and their securities, instructions, and interests.

We monitor employee personal and proprietary trading. This activity is reviewed quarterly to insure compliance with internal control policies and procedures. We strive to ensure that all employees act in accordance with applicable regulations governing registered investment advisory practices as applicable to the firm. Employees not in observance of this goal are subject to sanctions, including termination of employment. A copy of our Code of Ethics is available upon request to any advisory client or prospective advisory client.

It is further noted that WPA is in and shall continue to be in total compliance with The Insider Trading and Securities Fraud Enforcement Act of 1988. Specifically, WPA has adopted a firm wide policy statement outlining insider trading compliance by WPA and its associated persons and other employees. This statement has been distributed to all associated persons and other employees of WPA and has been signed and dated by each such person. A copy of such firm wide policy is left with such person and the original is maintained in a master file. Further, WPA has adopted a written supervisory procedures statement highlighting the steps which shall be taken to implement the firm wide policy. These materials are also distributed to all associated persons and other employees of WPA, are signed, dated and filed with the insider trading compliance materials. There are provisions adopted for (1) restricting access to files, (2) providing continuing education, (3) restricting and/or monitoring trading on those securities of which WPA's employees may have non-public information, (4) requiring all of WPA's employees to conduct their trading through a specified broker or reporting all transactions promptly to WPA and (5) monitoring the securities trading of the firm and its employees and associated persons. WPA or individuals associated with WPA may buy or sell securities identical to those recommended to customers for their personal account. It is the expressed policy of WPA that no person employed by WPA may purchase or sell any security prior to a transaction(s) being implemented for an advisory account, therefore, preventing such employees from benefiting from transactions placed on behalf of advisory accounts. WPA or any related person(s) may have an interest or position in a certain security(ies) which may also be recommended to a client. As these situations may represent a conflict of interest, WPA has established the following restrictions in order to ensure its fiduciary responsibilities: 1) A director, officer or employee of WPA shall not buy or sell securities for their personal portfolio(s) where their decision is substantially derived, in whole or in part, by reason of his or her employment unless the information is also available to the investing public on reasonable inquiry. No person of WPA shall prefer his or her own interest to that of the advisory client. 2) WPA maintains a list of all securities holdings for itself, and anyone associated with this advisory practice. These holdings are reviewed on a regular basis by Brent Walker. 3) WPA requires that all individuals must act in accordance with all applicable federal and state regulations governing registered investment advisory practices. 4) Any individual not in observance of the above may be subject to termination.

Item 9 - Brokerage Practices

WPA may recommend that clients establish brokerage accounts with the Institutional division of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), a registered broker-dealer, member SIPC, to maintain custody of clients' assets and to effect trades for their accounts. WPA is independently owned and operated and not affiliated with Schwab. Schwab provides WPA with access to its institutional trading and custody services, which are typically not available to Schwab retail investors. These services generally are available to independent investment advisors on an unsolicited basis, at no charge to them so long as a total of at least $10 million of the advisor's client's assets is maintained in accounts at Schwab Institutional, and the services are not otherwise contingent upon committing to Schwab any specific amount of business (assets in custody or trading). Schwab's services include brokerage, custody, research, and access to mutual funds and other investments that are otherwise generally available only to institutional investors or would require a significantly higher minimum initial investment.

For WPA client accounts maintained in its custody, Schwab generally does not charge separately for custody but is compensated by account holders through commissions or other transaction-related fees for securities trades that are executed through Schwab or that settle into Schwab accounts. Schwab also earns compensation on client cash holdings through their banking "sweep" accounts or other proprietary investment vehicles like money markets or exchange traded funds.

Schwab also makes available to WPA other products and services that benefit WPA but may not benefit its clients' accounts. Some of these other products and services assist WPA in managing and administering clients' accounts. These include software and other technology that provide access to client account data (such as trade confirmations and account statements); facilitate trade execution; provide research, pricing information and other market data; facilitate payment of WPA's fees from its clients' accounts; and assist with back-office functions, recordkeeping and client reporting. Many of these services generally may be used to service all or a substantial number of WPA's accounts, including accounts not maintained at Schwab Institutional. Schwab Institutional also makes available to WPA other services intended to help WPA manage and further develop its business enterprise. These services may include consulting, publications and conferences on practice management, information technology, business succession, regulatory compliance, and marketing. In addition, Schwab may make available, arrange and/or pay for these types of services rendered to WPA by independent third parties. Schwab Institutional may discount or waive fees it would otherwise charge for some of these services or pay all or a part of these fees of a third-party providing these services to WPA. While as a fiduciary, WPA endeavors to act in its clients' best interests, WPA's recommendation that clients maintain their assets in accounts at Schwab may be based in part on the benefit to WPA of the availability of some of the foregoing products and services provided by Schwab, which may create a potential conflict of interest.

We may, if requested by you, assist you in the selection of a stock broker. We have no relationship, compensatory or otherwise, with any stock brokers other than Schwab as stated herein.

Dimensional Fund Advisors, Inc. provides WPA with software to research DFA's fund performance and benchmark index data. This software may not be offered to other investment advisory firms. DFA limits fund purchases to clients of investment advisors who they approve to use their funds. If you choose to terminate your agreement with us and transfer your accounts to another custodian, your new custodian may not be able to hold or trade these funds.

Charles Schwab & Co. extends various discounts for services and products to us that may not be offered to other investment advisory firms. These discounts apply to such products and services as software, mutual fund transaction costs, and seminar or conference fees.

When managing retirement plan assets, the firm uses the custodial services of Plan Administrators, Inc., ADP, Ascensus, or Matrix Trust Company (formerly TD Ameritrade Trust). Such custodial firms, like Schwab, falls under the legal definition of a "qualified custodian".

Item 10 - Review of Accounts

In accordance with our IA agreement, employees of WealthPoint Advisors review your portfolio at least quarterly. WPA advisors monitor your statements and will meet with you or confer by telephone or email no less than annually. More frequent reviews may be triggered by market events or changes in your circumstances. Brent Walker (President) and other advisory team members meet on a periodic basis to review the performance of all accounts and the investment allocation relative to the target allocation established. Clients are contacted about performance or allocation if deemed necessary during the periodic meetings.

You will receive quarterly reports which summarize your asset management account performance.
